ANIMAL HEALTH NEWCASTLE

As you all have heard about the Newcastle disease hitting California. We under the given circumstances are required to place our birds under mandatory quarantine. We can assure you that our birds are completely healthy. They are not sick or affected by the disease. This is a process that needs to be performed as a precautionary by the authorities to make sure that the environment is healthy and disease-free. Our birds are completely fine but due to placing them in the quarantine we are unable put them up for sale as of now. We know that this is somewhat disturbing but it will be over soon. Feel free to join our mailing list for getting the latest updates including when we will be able to sell our birds again.

Amber Waves Bearded Bantam Silkies

History: Chinese Silkies are believed to have originated in Asia, although despite the name, it is unclear whether it was in China, Japan or India. Amongst its many other exploits, Marco Polo is believed to have introduced this bird to the western world sometime between 1254 and 1224. Of all the ornamental chicken breeds, the Silkie Bantam is one of the most popular and beloved and certainly one of the most entertaining to watch. They’re the lap kitty of the chicken world, complete with hair-like plumage and an incredibly sweet temperament.

Appearance: It only takes one look at this chicken to see how it got its name. This soft, hairy-feathered fowl looks unlike most other poultry. The Silkie’s feathers lack barbs which would otherwise hold the strands together, thus the individual strands sit free of each other back.
Silkies differ from other fowls in that they have dark flesh and five toes.

Temperament: Silkies are one of the most compliant and docile animals ever born and despite their soft delicate appearance are reasonably robust. The birds can be tamed and are often regarded by their owners as a real pet. Combine this with their curious, delicate appearance and one can see why this bird is often an appealing choice for the novice or child.

Health and Lifespan: Silkies have an average lifespan of 8 to 9 years.

Grooming and Maintenance: Silkies don’t require much extra care compared to other varieties of fowl. It is not uncommon for breeders to trim the ‘undercarriage’ of their broody hens as knotted feather strands can strangle chicks. Regular trimming of the nails is recommended; use strong scissors and file the nails smooth, as often as necessary.
Clean your silkie’s coop at least once a month, using fresh pine shavings on the floor. Sprinkle diatomaceous earth everywhere, except around food and water, to control fleas, lice and mites.

Feeding: If you are purchasing a commercial food I recommend a 24% grower that you often use for starting chicks compared to 16%. Besides commercial feed and access to green grass and insects that crawl and fly during good weather. They also have access to scratch grain and grit. Oyster shell should also always be available.

Breeding and Cost: Unlike some crossbred pullets, Silkies are not repeat layers and will stop laying through winter. Breeders say to expect an average of 90 to 120 eggs per year. Silkie hens are good mums and are often bred with other varieties of fowl due to their strong brooding instincts. A Silkie hen will comfortably raise 6 to 8 chicks. Silkies cost from around $20 to $120 per bird or more, it’s best to buy them from a breeder. If just starting out, breeders recommend buying Silkies in pairs or in threes.

BEARDED BANTAM SILKIES

Breed: Chinese Silkie Chicken
Temperament: Docile, easy to handle
Lifespan: 9 years
Maintenance: Low ideal owner; great for kids, novices and fowl enthusiasts

Space and Exercise: Allow 2 square feet per silkie. The Silkie's feather structure prevents the bird from being able to fly they usually prefer to camp in great piles on the ground with several roosters, hens and young birds all sleeping together. They can be housed on bare earth although shavings and deep litter is preferable to prevent damage to the feathers from rough, muddy conditions. Be mindful that predators such as dogs, cats and foxes would also find these birds easy targets.

Recommended For: Silkies make excellent backyard and pet fowl. They are reasonably quiet (though check with local council regulations governing the keeping of poultry in your area) and a couple of hens can be kept without the need for a rooster. While not prolific layers, 6 to 8 hens are adequate for a small family although the eggs are small, around 40 grams.

Silkies are an ideal bird to introduce the novice and child to poultry keeping and pet care. They are suitable for children aged from around 6 years and up.

Clean your silkie’s coop at least once a month, using fresh pine shavings on the floor. Sprinkle diatomaceous earth everywhere, except around food and water, to control fleas, lice and mites.

WHAT ARE DNA SEXED FEMALE CHICKS?

DNA Sexing

Amber Waves is one of the few if not the only Bearded Bantam Silkie Breeder that takes the time and money to DNA sex their chicks. It is a well-known fact that it is impossible to sex baby silkies till they are near full grown.

Many of our customers can only have female chickens in the city or county they live in. Customers who have experienced the heartbreak of raising and falling in love with a baby chick(s) only to find out it is a male that they cannot keep because of zoning regulations buying an already sexed female makes excellent sense.

How often are female chicks available?

Depending on how many chicks we have in the three - four-week range we will do a few test groups a month. We do not do DNA sexing until the chicks are old enough to wing band so they can be identified for testing.

What is DNA Sexing

Avian DNA Gender Determination (bird sexing) is a non-surgical tool used by veterinarians, breeders, and bird owners who otherwise cannot determine the gender of their bird by its physical appearance or characteristics. DNA testing can be performed on blood cards or feathers. We use PCR (Polymerase Chain Reaction) to detect the presence of male and female chromosomes in the bird’s DNA.

How old are DNA Sexed chicks?

In most cases, DNA sexed chicks will be anywhere from 1-3 months of age. The demand for DNA sexed females is high, and they usually do not stay around a long time before sold. You can get an estimate of their age by taking their DNA date and counting back 3 weeks or 4 weeks.

The majority of DNA sexed chicks are not coop ready they may still be under a heat lamp or at the very least inside till they are fully feathered.
How much is DNA Sexed Female Chicks?

We never know the cost of a DNA sexed female chick until we get the lab report back. To arrive at the price of the female chick(s), we take the total cost of the lab work, actual chick price, and any other expenses in that test group and divide by the number of females we have. The males have no value, and we rehome them for free. Historically prices have ranged from $75 - $295 per chick. The amount is entirely dependent on the number of females versus males. We had one group we tested 18 chicks and got one female that was a very high-priced chick.

Pickup and/or Shipping DNA Sexed Chicks

You can pick up sexed chicks at any time by appointment go to http://amber-waves.genbook.com.

Shipping is available at a flat rate of $95 which includes a specially approved USPS shipping box, fresh fruit, and express mail postage. Note rate may change without notice.

Our minimum for shipping is 2 chicks, and they must be at least 1 month of age older is better.

We do offer to board of chick(s) till old enough to ship space permitting. All babies are kept in our climate controlled barn till old enough to ship. We charge $10 per month or any part of a month per chick for boarding.

In the event, your chick(s) become ill or die Amber Waves reserves the right to replace any chick purchased with another female chick of equal value which may or may not be the same color as initially purchased or refund the price of that chick.

• Notes prices subject to change without notice.
• All sales are final no refunds or exchanges

General Information

How to Purchase

- To purchase send an email to debbie@amberwaves.info or text 951-736-1076 to make sure we have the chicks and quantity you are wanting to order.

- Include what you are ordering and the following information
  Full Name, Mailing Address, City, State, Zip, Home Phone, Cell Phone and Email

- Let me know if the chicks need to be shipped or if you are picking them up. Chicks must be picked up within a week of purchase or board will be $10 per chick per month or any part of a month.

Weather

- We cannot ship when it is too hot or too cold. Basic guidelines are above 80°F or below 20°F

Shipping

- We do not ship any chicks under a month of age and prefer them to be older if possible.

- Minimum to ship is two however, more is better for the chicks being shipped.

- Shipping is a flat $95 per box. We can ship two adult birds or many chicks in the box depending on ages for the same shipping cost.

- We only ship on Mondays or Tuesdays and never in a week with any holidays.

- Live birds will only be sent Express Mail in approved horizon shipping boxes. The USPS does not insure live birds and does not refund postage unless the birds are 3 days or more late. If you have any questions about the USPS Policy, please contact the USPS through their website or call them and ask them about their Live Bird shipping policy. Once the box/birds leave my hands, I have no control over how the post office will treat them. I do not refund for dead/injured birds on arrival. Also, NO postal refunds for late deliveries.

- Boarding may be available and is $10.00 per month or any part of a month per bird. Please contact us for availability.

- Sometimes things happen to chicks/birds that are out of our control. In the event a bird becomes ill or dies while waiting to ship Amber Waves reserves the right to replace the bird with another bird of the same sex (may not be the same color) or refund the purchase price of that one bird/chick.

- All chicks/birds boarded will receive the same care and routine worming, coccidia, and vaccinations as Amber Waves breeding stock.

Payments

- Amber Waves accepts Cash, Checks, Electronic Checks, MasterCard, Visa, Amex, Discover or PayPal.

Holding Birds

- We do not hold any birds without full payment.

Prices

- DNA females usually run from $75-$300 each.

- Straight run chicks are $10 Each for Regular colors (Buff, White, Black, Partridge) $25 Each for Paint, Blue and Splash Chicks.

- Baby chicks are fragile, and we do not replace chicks that die.

What is a DNA Sexed Silkie Chicks

Silkies chicks are impossible to sex as chicks. Most are sold straight run which means you do not know if they are males or females. Amber Waves is one of the few if not the only breeder that takes the time and money to send blood work into a lab to determine the sex of a chick. In most cases chick prices are determined by the total costs which include the lab work, chick itself, and any other expenses related to the testing of that group of chicks then we take that total and divide by the number of females. The males have no value and we rehome them to good homes.

www.amberwaves.info
Male Silkie Chicks

We give all our male chicks away for free to good homes. If you are interested in male chicks please contact me debbie@amberwaves.info or text 951-736-1076 you can take one or all of the available roosters.

Vaccinations

If chicks have had any vaccinations it is an additional $3.00 per vaccine.

Note with Fowl Pox Vaccination after they receive their first vaccination is recommended that you revaccinate them in 12 weeks.

Just because a bird is vaccinated it does not mean it will not get sick vaccines can fail. A vaccine failure is when an organism develops a disease despite being vaccinated against it. Primary vaccine failure occurs when an organism's immune system does not produce antibodies when first vaccinated. Vaccines can fail when several series are given and fail to produce an immune response. Vaccine failure - Wikipedia https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Vaccine_failure

Reputation

- Amber Waves is a Registered NPIP member CA-308

Appointments

- Amber Waves is closed on Mondays and some major holidays.
- Amber Waves is a private breeder not a hatchery or store.
- Due to the recent outbreak of Newcastle disease in poultry we are no longer doing tours. If you are purchasing birds, we will meet you in the front driveway. Once this threat is over we will resume our normal tours and visits.

Newcastle threat 2018

CDFA > AHFSS > AHB > Newcastle Disease - California Department https://www.cdfa.ca.gov/ahfss/Animal_Health/Newcastle_Disease_Info.html

Virulent Newcastle Disease (VND) Virulent Newcastle disease (VND), formerly known as Exotic Newcastle Disease, is a serious, highly contagious viral disease that can affect poultry and other birds. In rare cases, humans that have exposure to infected birds may get eye inflammation or mild fever-like symptoms.
